

NuFem #3 Testosterone

NuFem 3 is a homeopathic formula designed to support both female and male hormonal balance while promoting liver health. This multi-system blend works with the body's endocrine system to help regulate adrenal, reproductive, and metabolic function. NuFem 3 offers gentle, homeopathic support for temporary relief from liver disturbances, reproductive discomfort, and cycle irregularities in women, as well as testicular and spermatid discomfort in men.

Supports liver function and detoxification

- Chelidonium 3X supports liver health and assists in processing hormones and metabolic byproducts, contributing to overall systemic balance.

Supports adrenal and stress-related hormonal responses

- Adrenal 6X and Cortisol 6X help the body manage stress and maintain endocrine resilience, which can improve energy and reduce fatigue associated with hormonal fluctuations.

Supports reproductive and ovarian/testicular health

- DNA 6X, RNA 6X, and Testosterone 6X help promote healthy communication and function in reproductive organs, addressing ovarian discomfort in women and testicular or spermatid issues in men.

Helps regulate menstrual timing and flow

- By supporting endocrine signaling, NuFem 3 may help with delayed, late, or excessive menses, as well as associated discomfort.

Promotes energy, vitality, and metabolic support

- The combination of Adrenal 6X, Cortisol 6X, DNA 6X, and RNA 6X supports cellular energy production and metabolic processes, helping reduce fatigue and maintain overall vitality.

Encourages systemic balance for both sexes

- NuFem 3's multi-target approach supports key hormonal pathways in men and women, aiding in reproductive, adrenal, and liver function simultaneously.

Encourages cellular health and repair

- DNA 6X & RNA 6X support cellular function and regeneration, contributing to overall vitality and hormonal system efficiency.

Supports emotional and mental well-being

- By stabilizing hormone signaling and adrenal function, the formula may help reduce mood swings, irritability, and stress-related emotional fluctuations.
