Systemic Enzyme Pro

Systemic Enzyme Pro is a professional formula that delivers six enzymes, 100 mg each, in every capsule. Taken between meals, systemic enzymes are intended to work throughout the body rather than on food, where they may support the immune system, joint comfort and recovery, healthy inflammatory markers and relief from occasional physical discomfort.* Taken with meals, the same enzymes help break down proteins, fats and carbohydrates for more complete digestion.*

Bromelain

- A protein-digesting enzyme from the pineapple stem and one of the most widely studied systemic enzymes. Bromelain may help support joint comfort, recovery after physical activity and a healthy inflammatory response.*

Papain

- A protein-digesting enzyme from papaya. Papain works alongside bromelain to break down proteins and is traditionally used to support recovery and tissue comfort.*

Amylase

- Breaks down starches and complex carbohydrates into simpler sugars, supporting complete digestion of carbohydrate-rich meals.*

Protease

- Breaks proteins down into smaller peptides and amino acids. Taken between meals, protease may help support immune function and normal tissue recovery.*

Lipase

- Breaks down dietary fats into fatty acids and glycerol, supporting fat digestion and the absorption of fat-soluble nutrients.*

Peptidase

- Splits peptides, the short protein chains left after protein digestion, into individual amino acids. Peptidase completes the work protease begins, supporting thorough protein breakdown.*
